

UNISON SCOTLAND NURSING CONFERENCE

TUESDAY 2 NOVEMBER 2010

10.00am-4.30pm - Trades Hall, 85 Glassford Street, Glasgow G1 1UH

Our public services are increasingly under attack and proposed job cuts in the NHS in Scotland could have a major impact on services and quality of patient care.

This one day conference is open to our members across the whole nursing family, including nurses, midwives, health visitors and healthcare assistants. Together we will consider the key issues currently affecting members and offer an opportunity to discuss and debate the future for nursing in Scotland

Speakers:

Jackie Baillie

Shadow Cabinet Secretary for Health & Wellbeing
The Challenges facing the NHS

Ros Moore Chief Nurse for Scotland
My Ambitions for Nursing in Scotland

Roger Thompson

NMC Director of Standards and Registrations
Increasing Public Protection: moving beyond the register

Gail Adams Head of Nursing for UNISON
'Speaking Up and Speaking Out' and
'Raising and Escalating Concerns'

Mick McKeown University of Central Lancashire
Dave Mercer Liverpool University
Why nurses should not be in BNP

Debate:

Do we need as many registered nurses?

Debate/discussion on skills mix and use of competences for Healthcare Support Workers.

Chair:

Bridget Hunter

UNISON Lead Officer for Nursing in Scotland

The conference is open to all all nursing, midwifery and health visiting members.

The cost for attending the conference will be £20.00 per delegate payable by your Branch. To register please contact Fiona Martin on 0141 342 2820 or email f.martin@unison.co.uk
